Introduction to the Prayers of the Faithful

Next weekend we celebrate the feast of Christ the King. This marks the end of a Liturgical Year, or cycle of life within the Church. A new year will begin with the season of Advent. In the final weeks of the Church year the readings point to the "end times". "End times", in one form or another, are the preoccupation of many cults and sects. Indeed the news and entertainment business is filled with pundits and pollsters speculating on end times of one sort or another. The current pandemic and extremes of climate around the world seem to elevate an immediacy of cataclysm that is sometimes hysterical.

But end times are something very present and real for thousands of people around the world persecuted for their faith. Many choose faithfulness to Jesus over forced conversion to other religions, just as the martyrs of the early church did. They remind us that end times will indeed come at some point for the world. But nobody really knows when. Jesus said that this was known only by the Father. But an end time will come for each of us personally. And the Gospel today asks if we are prepared or preparing for that day. Our faith is a precious and powerful gift. It can't be taken for granted. And if we live it daily we will always be prepared and ready.

Prayers of the Faithful

For Pope Francis, for our Bishop, Christian Riesbeck and for each one that God has called to be a shepherd for His Church. We pray to the Lord.

For Christians facing persecution each day and especially for our fellow Catholics in Pakistan, the Middle East and throughout the world who live under the threat of death for their faith in Christ. We pray to the Lord.

For God's continued blessing on our children and grandchildren and all children attending school who have shown us how to adapt and not be controlled by fear. We pray to the Lord.

For the poor whose needs are greater at this time and for the generous people who will provide for them. We pray to the Lord.

For people who are sick and for those in special care and the many people who still endure isolation and loneliness. We pray to the Lord.

For all of our deceased relatives and parishioners and especially the ones whose names are written in our Book of Remembrance. We pray to the Lord.

For those who have recently died NN..... and for their families and friends who mourn them. We pray to the Lord.
